PARISH REGISTERS.

Nonconformist Registers.

TRANSCRIBED AND EDITED BY
GEORGE EYRE EVANS,
SOME TIME MINISTER AT WHITCHURCH.

PRIVATELY PRINTED FOR THE
SHROPSHIRE PARISH REGISTER SOCIETY.

1903.

Note for the Reader.

THE genesis of this interesting volume begins with a letter from the late Mr. Stanley Leighton to the present writer, who, as Minister of the Church of the Saviour, Whitchurch, had for many years been a near Salopian neighbour. Mr. Leighton said :—

“We have passed a resolution that, if possible, we would print the Registers of the Chapels. Would you be willing to undertake the editorship and transcription, we doing the printing?”

The writer, who has long had access, for historical purposes, to the Non-Parochial Registers in the custody of the Registrar-General, at once consented to carry out the work, and from his transcripts of the originals the following pages are printed down to 1812.

Ten of the oldest Registers in the county were selected for publication, viz. :—

Shrewsbury, Society of Friends	1657.
Shrewsbury, High Street, Presbyterian (now Unitarian)	1692.
Whitchurch, Dodington, Presbyterian (extinct 1844)	1708.
*Oldbury, Old Dissenting Chapel (now Unitarian)	1715.
Wem, Presbyterian Chapel (extinct) ..	1755.
Bridgnorth, Stoneway Chapel	1765.
Shrewsbury, Claremont Baptist Meeting-house	1766.
Shrewsbury, Swan Hill Chapel	1767.
Oswestry, Old Chapel (now Christ Church) ..	1780.
Ellesmere, Independent Chapel	1787.

* Formerly in Shropshire, now in Worcestershire.

A list of all Non-parochial Registers in Shropshire, and now at Somerset House, will be found in the printed catalogue, which can be consulted in the hall of the General Register Office. By far the larger portion of them only begins in the early years of the nineteenth century.

By the Act of Parliament, on the 10th August, 1840 (3 and 4 Vict., cap. 92), and extended in 1858 (21 Vict., cap. 25), the Non-parochial Registers, collected and authenticated by the Royal Commissions appointed in 1837 and 1857, were made receivable in legal evidence, subject to certain conditions and restrictions.

The notes on the heraldry emblazoned on many of the fine twenty-four memorial brasses, formerly in Dodington Presbyterian Chapel, and in January 1896 transferred to the Church of the Saviour, which has a similar open trust to the old Chapel, have been furnished by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F.S.A.; whilst that on the early Friends in Shrewsbury has been contributed by William Gregory Norris, J.P., of Coalbrookdale, who accompanied it with a donation of £5 5s. towards the cost of printing the volume.

It may be well to remind the reader of the "double date". Up to the time of the reform of the calendar in 1754, the civil year commenced on 25th March, while the historical year, as now, began on 1st January. Consequently the period from 1st January to 25th March was in two years. Thus, the 1st February 1732 according to the civil year, was the 1st February 1733 according to our (historical) reckoning, and it is often written 1st February 1732-3, or 1732 $\frac{2}{3}$, the last being the historical one. In Parish Registers the civil reckoning was usually adopted, and this must be remembered when dealing with entries from 1st January to 25th March, before the year 1754.

The Council decided that no really useful purpose was served by printing the registers verbatim et literatim, but that valuable space would be filled and progress delayed. Accordingly, mere verbiage has been omitted, and the following abbreviations freely adopted, save when there seemed to be any special reason for giving the entries exactly as they stand :—

b.	... bachelor.	sep	... sepultus (buried).
sp.	... spinster.	s.	... son.
wid.	... widow.	d.	... daughter.
widr.	... widower.	w.	... wife.
p.	... parish.	lic.	... license.
wit.	... witnesses.	gent.	... gentleman.
bap.	... baptized.	esq.	... esquire.
chr.	... christened.	clk.	... clerk.
mar.	... married.	co.	... county.
bur.	... buried	dioc.	... diocese.
ch.w.	... churchwardens.	f.	... filius or filia (son or daughter).
ux.	... uxor (wife).

The Editor's thanks are due, and are heartily given, to every one who has assisted in the work, especially to successive Registrars-General, Superintendents of Records, and the Chief Clerk, for that personal consideration and kindness invariably received by him at their hands in Somerset House. It has been a pleasure to him to carry out the wishes of his friend Mr. Leighton, and to do something towards preserving the history of that county, in which, next to that of his native Devon, and this of Cardigan, his greatest interests lie, and where more than a decade of happy years were lived.

Oliver's Chapel was so-called after Thomas Oliver, a turner, who lived in the house. Cf. a small quarto volume written on paper of the time of James I, penes Stanley Leighton, Esquire, M.P., and noted by Sir H. C. Maxwell Lyte in the Report of the Historical Manuscripts Commission dealing with the library at Sweeney Hall.

1687. Meetings for worship "renewed again, Bryan and Tallents both alternately preached, and began the first public meetings at Mrs. Hunt's house, on Sundays, morning and evening at common church hours." Cf. a manuscript book at Sweeney Hall, penes Mr. Leighton, but formerly belonging to Mr. Henry Pidgeon, of Shrewsbury, and bought by him from Mr. Henry Wood, Attorney, 1829.
1690. October 23. Death of Mrs. Hunt; meetings removed to Mr. Tallents' own house.
1691. October 25. Meeting-house in High Street opened for public worship. Mr. Tallents caused the following inscription to be painted on the walls, where it is retained until this day. "This place was not built for a faction or a party, but to promote repentance and faith in communion with all those who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made Heaven and Earth."
1715. July 6. "At night, our meeting-house was pulled down. The magistrates did little or nothing to prevent it." Cf. Memoirs of John Reynolds, London, 1735.
1741. November 5. The independent congregation of King's Head, Shrewsbury, admitted to fellowship, being "unanimously agreed that the old distinguishing names of Presbyterian and Independent should be entirely dropped and forgotten, and the sacred name Christian alone be used."

1779. April 25. Liturgical service unanimously agreed to and adopted; the one used being that compiled by the Rev. Theophilus Lindsey, M.A., many years Vicar of Catterick, and first minister of the Unitarian congregation, Essex Street Chapel, Strand, W.C.

1798. January. S. T. Coleridge preached some Sundays as candidate for ministry of the congregation. Here he first met William Hazlitt (see Wem) who was amongst the worshippers, and here he received from the brothers Wedgwood pecuniary offer of assistance, "if he would waive his present pursuits, and devote himself entirely to the study of poetry and philosophy". Cf. Examiner, 12 January, 1816.
1885. March 12. Building restored, enlarged and re-opened; preacher, Rev. Henry William Crosskey, LL.D. (Glas.), of Birmingham.

The Register.

A volume in modern vellum back, with green cloth sides, 12 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches tall, by 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches broad. In the General Register Office, Somerset House, London, being No. 35, Shropshire Non-Parochial Registers. It contains:—

- (a) One sheet, closely written on both sides, of Baptisms, 1692-1706, in the hand-writing of Rev. James Owen.
- (b) A list of ministers, &c., written by Rev. Richard Astley.
- (c) Two leaves, closely written on both sides, of Baptisms 1727-1741, "taken out of a book of Mr. Dobson's by me, Job Orton, Salop."
- (d) Three leaves (two written on both sides) of Baptisms, 1733-1741, by Charles Berry, and ten entries, 1741-1743, of Baptisms by Mr. Holland (Wem), Jos. Davis, and Mr. Allen.
- (e) A transcript (partial) of c and d.
- (f) Baptisms from 1741 to 1786.
- (g) Ditto, from 1785 to 1836.

In sending this register to the Commissioners on 12 Jan., 1837, Rev. Richard Astley writes in it:—

"The Chapel was rebuilt 'by the Care and Contribution of Government', after having been pulled down in the riots 6 July, 1715.

"I am not aware that any register has been lost. Whether a register was kept between 27 Oct., 1706, and 13 Oct., 1727, and which has been lost, I have no means of ascertaining. From the care that appears to have been taken to collect (apparently from private books) the registers prior to 27 Oct., 1706, and those from 13 Oct., 1727, to 23 May, 1743, I should suppose if any register was kept during the interval I have mentioned, it must have been in some private Book of the Rev. Mr. Reynolds, and could not be recovered."

Swan Hill Chapel Register.

CONGREGATION AND BUILDINGS.

In 1767, a secession of members took place from the congregation in High Street, consequent upon the seceders' disapproval, on doctrinal and other grounds, of the appointment of the Rev. Benjamin Stapp to the ministry of the old chapel. The seceders "thought it their duty to separate from their brethren, and to provide another place of worship and minister till Providence should open a way for their reunion." This secession became the present Independent or Congregational Church, of Swan Hill. The members who thus withdrew retired to a large malthouse, nearly opposite to Allat's School. Here they met for worship on 12th Oct. 1776, the Rev. Job Orton being present, and Robert Gentleman, then a student at Daventry Academy, being preacher. No prospect of reunion appearing, a piece of ground was bought on Swan Hill, and on 13th April 1767, the foundation stone of "the New Chapel," was laid, and on 10th September following it was opened for divine service, there being present "nine ministers beside Mr. Gentleman and about six hundred people." On the front of the building was engraved this inscription:—"This building was erected | in the year 1767 | For the public worship of God, | And in defence of the right of majorities | in Protestant Dissenting Congregations | To choose their own ministers." | In 1868 the chapel was enlarged and partly rebuilt; the original walls, being a yard thick, were allowed to remain and to form a portion of the present structure. The cost of these alterations, some £2,000, had all been paid at the time of opening. In 1880 schoolrooms were erected to supersede the old rooms, which were built soon after the Sunday School was established in 1799.

In the vestry are valuable oil paintings of the Revs. John Bryan, Francis Tallents, M.A., Job Orton, and James Owen, all ministers of the High Street congregation (q.v.), Richard Heath, minister of St. Alkmond's Church, Shrewsbury, and Samuel Lucas.

Dodington Presbyterian
Chapel,
Whitchurch,

1708-1812.

Whitchurch, Dodington Presbyterian Chapel Register.

CONGREGATION AND BUILDINGS.

This congregation dates from the 7th May, 1672, on which day Philip Henry made entry in his diary:—This day I received my license unsought and unexpected. The document was dated at Whitehall, 30th April, 1672, and permits a Roome or Roomes in the house of Philip Henry, in Malpas Parish, Flintshire, to be a place for the use of such as do not conform to the Church of England, who are of the Perswasion commonly called Presbyterien, to meet and assemble in, in order to their Publick Worship and Devotion. In June, 1689, the Toleration Act became law and the Broad Oak Chapel was registered, and Philip Henry was prevailed upon to preach at public time every Lord's Day, which he continued to do while he lived. His son Matthew says that this "meeting-place was an out-building of his [P. Henry's] own, near adjoining to his house, fitted up very decently and conveniently for the purpose." It stood until taken down, about 1746, by order of his grandson, Philip Henry Warburton, M.P. In 1707, a chapel was built in Dodington, Whitchurch, where the greater part of the worshippers lived, though a lecture continued to be held regularly at Broad Oak, where Matthew Henry preached on the afternoon of the 23rd July, 1713. In 1716, the Dodington Chapel was wrecked by rioters, referred to in this entry in the register:—

1715, September 3. John, the son of John Lee, of Whixall, at Broad Oak. The chappel at Whitchurch being demolished by ye mobb on July 15th, 16th, 18th, and 19th, before.

The present disused chapel, though much injured in the Priestley riots of 1792, is in great measure the one which was built in 1717 by government in place of the one wrecked in 1716.

The congregation regularly worshipped here until about 1844 or the beginning of 1845, when it died out. The 23 brass tablets on its walls were then boarded over, and the building used for its present purpose of a boys' day school and other meetings.

On 9 December, 1891, the building was sold by public auction for £161, to Mr. John A. Roberts, who had for some time used it as his school-house. Proceeds were handed over to the British and Foreign School Society, by Mr. J. H. Warburton Lee, solicitor, of Broad Oak.

The brasses were all removed to the adjacent Church of the Saviour, which, like this old chapel, has a free trust, being held simply "for the worship of Almighty God." The inscriptions on the brasses are:

inches by 10 inches; total height, $16\frac{1}{2}$ inches. This was the John Yate, extracts from whose diary were given by the present writer in Seedsower, 1894, pp. 108-9. He lived in the old house in Dodington, still standing, a little lower down than the meeting-house, on the other side of the road.]

- (22) Beneath lie the remains of | Constance Mary Yate | who died 21st May, 1762, aged 18. And | Anna Yate | who died 15th June, 1762, aged 17. | Margaret Yate, died 26th | Feb. 1769, aged 52.

[A circular-headed brass, in which coat of arms, excellently engraved, as on brass of Thomas Yate; inscription in the oblong, 13 inches by 10 inches; total height, $17\frac{1}{4}$ inches. Constance Mary and Anna were daughters of John and Constance Yate, ut sup.; Margaret was probably a daughter of Thomas and Lydia Yate ut sup. There is an error in the shields 2, 3, 4, and 5, showing ignorance of heraldry. They are all the same coat, namely, a Yate impaling his wife's arms. But, of course, only the husband of the lady could use a coat so marshalled; and his sons, and others of the surname, could not rightly use it. In No. 4 the Arms of the ladies should have been placed on a lozenge-shaped shield.]

- (23) See E. Keay, ut infra.

An account of these brasses was given in the Transactions of the Monumental Brass Society, No. 6, new series, January, 1897; also in the Church Chronicle, No. 35, February, 1896, a copy of which is in the large Record Book belonging to the Church of the Saviour. Mounted rubbings of them, taken by the author, were lent to the Exhibition of Shropshire Antiquities, held in Shrewsbury, May, 1898 (see Catalogue, p. 75, No. 399). The Rev. Edmund Butcher, in his Excursion from Sidmouth to Chester, 1805, i, pp. 185-6, says, of Whitchurch, that the meeting-house "is remarkable for having over many of the pews brass plates, containing the names of persons and families who are buried there." This sentence, together with the testimony of an old worshipper in the place, led to the author finding the brasses behind the present woodwork on the walls of the old building.

COMMUNION PLATE.

A fine pewter set of early eighteenth century date, it was lost when the congregation ceased to exist, but fortunately one piece was recovered in 1893, and is now used by the Church of the Saviour. It is 15 inches in diameter, and inscribed:—

THIS ANCIENT ALMSDISH,
USED IN THE PRESBYTERIAN CHAPEL, DODINGTON,
LOST IN 1843,
WAS RECOVERED, AND GIVEN TO THE TRUSTEES, FOR USE IN THE
CHURCH OF THE SAVIOUR, WHITCHURCH,

REV. GEORGE EYRE EVANS.

A list of persons buried at Whitchurch Chapel by Joseph Marriott, Minister.

Samuel Yate Benyon, Esq., April 13, 1822.

[End of all Entries in this Register.]

[At the end of the book, in the handwriting of the Rev. John Philp comes :—]

Extract from a common place book of the Rev. Thomas Jenkins, for several years minister of the present Unitarian Chapel in Dudington, Whitechurch.

“A brief account of the congregation of Protestant dissenters meeting for the purpose of public worship at the old chapel at Dudington, Whitechurch.

“It was founded by that excellent man Mr. P. Henry. After his ejection from Worthenbury he retired to Broad Oak, near Whitechurch, where he erected a place of worship, and gathered together a pretty numerous congregation. This good man died in the year 1696, aged 65. To him succeeded Dr. Samuel Benyon, who, though a very young man, was eminently qualified to be a proper successor of Mr. P. Henry.

“In 1706 he removed to Shrewsbury to succeed the celebrated Mr. James Owen, who died in that year. Mr. Tallants being then far advanced in years, notwithstanding which he survived Dr. Benyon a few months—for the Dr. died in the prime and vigour of youth aged only 35. See his funeral sermon, with a short account of his life by Mr. M. Henry.

“As the greatest part of the congregation at the Broad Oak consisted of the Whitechurch people in the year 1706, the year in which Dr. Benyon left them ;

“I find from a letter from Mr. Yate, of Danford, to Mr. M. Henry, they were building the chapel at Whitchurch; which when finished the congregation removed thither. But for some time after they continued to preach a monthly lecture at Broad Oak, till Mr. Warburton, who though the son of good Mr. M. Henry, was an enemy of all righteousness, ordered the pulpit to be pulled down.

“Dr. S. Benyon was succeeded by Mr. D. Benyon. I find it mentioned in Mr. M. Henry's life ; the day that Mr. Henry heard of Mr. Tallant's death, which was in 1708, he was at Whitechurch engaged in the ordination of Mr. Benyon. The ordainers were Mr. Doughty, Mr. D. Jones, but of what place they were ministers I cannot find ; Mr. Lawrence, of Nantwŷch, Mr. Jenkin Evans, of Oswestry, and Mr. Henry. See Mr. Henry's life. Mr. Benyon was at Whitchurch in the year 1724, but whether he died at Whitchurch or removed to another place I know not. (Mr. Benyon died at Bath 1st May 1725.) [This is a footnote, but in the same writing.]

“He was succeeded by Mr. Thomas Colthurst either in 1725 or 26, for I find him at Whitchurch in 1726. On October 30th 1728 he was ordained, the ordainers were Mr.

Holland of Wem, Mr. Berry of Shrewsbury, Mr. Dobson, but of what place he was minister I know not; Mr. Kenrick of Wrexham, Mr. Venables, I believe of Oswestry. He removed from Whitchurch to Knutsford, but I know not in what year.

“With respect to the death of this good man, I find this account in Mr. Traill’s diary, 27th January 1738-9. ‘Being Saturday about 7 o’clock in the evening the faithful and eminent servant of God, the Rev. Mr. Thomas Colthurst departed this life, and made a glorious and happy exchange for a better and immortal life of happiness and glory.’ Upon which he makes this pertinent and pious reflection.

“‘How awful and surprising is this Providence; his near and dear relations; his present and his late charge are deeply affected therewith. What good hope might they not indulge of receiving much benefit both from his ministerial labours and his amiable and excellent example! But the Lord seeth not as man seeth; His ways are above our ways, and His thoughts above our thoughts, and whatever He doeth in heaven or in earth, is well and wisely done, and none dare say unto Him, what doest thou?’

“In January 1739 I find from Mr. Traill’s diary that Mr. King was settled at Whitchurch, who I think died rather a young man, but in what year I know not.

“I should have observed before, that in Mr. Benyon’s time, viz. in the year 1716, the chapel was pulled down, this happened, according to the diary of Mrs. Savage, 15th July 1715,—by a high-church mob, as also those of Wem, Shrewsbury and Wrexham. The spirit of high-church has always been invariably the same, viz. that of intolerance and persecution.

“He was succeeded by Mr. Ebenezer Keay, who was one of the worthiest of men.

“He died in December 1779, having been minister of this congregation 40 years,—as expressed on the plate over his grave,—so that he must have been at Whitchurch sometime in the year 1739, of consequence Mr. King must have lived but a very little time among them.

“Mr. Keay was succeeded by Mr. Jones, who soon removed to Devizes, and from thence to Chudleigh in Devonshire, where he may be now in 1805 for anything I know.

“ Mr. Jones was succeeded by Mr. Thomas Rees, who after a very short residence at Whitchurch removed to Elland near Halifax in Yorkshire, but since went to America, where if living, I suppose he is still.

“ Mr. Henry Procter succeeded him, who after a very short stay at Whitchurch removed to Evesham in Worcestershire, and from hence to Stafford.

“ He was so unfortunate as to outlive his faculties, and is now a very pitiable object, only the ruins of a man.”

CONGREGATION AND BUILDINGS.

As early as 1558 a curate named Barnard refused to bury a certain William Glover, who dissented from "popish ceremonies" then practised at Wem. His body was buried in a neighbouring field; his brother, Robert Glover, had been burned at the stake at Coventry, in 1555. For some years prior to the Act of Uniformity, 1662, Wem enjoyed the ministry of the Rev. Andrew Parsons, M.A., a native of Devon, who took part in the ordination of the Rev. Philip Henry, M.A., in Prees Church. In 1660 he had been fined £200 for seditious words falsely sworn to have been spoken by him in a sermon, and ordered to be imprisoned until the fine was paid. He removed to London, where he died in 1684.

The Curate of the Chapel of St. Mary, Edstaston, was the Rev. Samuel Taylor, of Magdalen College, Cambridge, described by Calamy as "a learned, holy, humble, ingenious man, and a good preacher, but sickly"; who became the first minister of this Presbyterian congregation at Wem. He and his people at first attended Divine Service in their parish church, and held their own meetings for worship at other hours of the day, and in private houses. Their first public meeting-house was a barn, in Leek Lane, now Chapel Street, which was first occupied by the congregation during the ministry of the Rev. Richard Latham. This was razed and burned in 1715, during the Sacheverell riots. The following year, a new meeting-house was built on another site—"Sarah Thornhill's garden in Noble Street"—by the voluntary contributions of nonconformists, added to the sum of £60, which was paid by the High Sheriff as compensation for the damage done to the first meeting-house. During the ministry of the Rev. Thomas Holland, say about 1714-1729, the strength of the congregation was thus reported—180 hearers, 25 county voters, 24 tradesmen, 14 farmers, 10 yeomen. In 1798 Samuel Taylor Coleridge and William Hazlitt first met here during the ministry of Hazlitt's father; a room in the old parsonage is still known as Coleridge's room. For an account of this memorable event the reader is referred to Hazlitt's essay—judged by some of his critics the best he ever wrote—"My First Acquaintance with Poets." Unitarian views were adopted by this congregation and preached by Harrop, Houghton, Hazlitt, and Whitehead. After the death of the Rev. George Smith the congregation ceased to exist. The remaining members united themselves with the Independent congregation in Chapel Street, and the building and endowments were dealt with by the Charity Commissioners, one moiety of the endowments being given to the Chapel Street congregation, and the other for charitable purposes connected with the parish of Wem, and managed by Trustees sanctioned by the Commissioners.

Bridgnorth Stoneway Chapel Register.

CONGREGATION AND BUILDINGS.

In 1709 the congregation built its first meeting-house on Stoneway Steps, described in deed dated 2nd August, 8th year of Queen Anne, 1709, as: "All that messuage, cottage, or tenements, with all the gardens thereunto adjoining and belonging, on the north side of Stoneway, the which John Wilson hath lately purchased from Mr. Thomas Wollastone, and Anne, his wife, together with the new building thereupon since erected," &c. It was a double gabled structure, built after the fashion of Matthew Henry's Chapel, at Chester. The roof was supported by two large pillars rising from the middle of the chapel. This building stood for 120 years. The present chapel was built in 1829, and opened on the 25th October in that year, when the Rev. George Redford, M.A., LL.D. (Glas.), of Worcester, preached the sermon. A painting of the old chapel was made by Philip Brown, of Shrewsbury, at the expense of the Rev. Samuel Barber. In 1898 it was in the possession of his younger daughter, Miss H. G. Barber. Miss Barber, who died 2 Nov. 1900, bequeathed this to the Trustees of the Chapel with a legacy of £50. Schoolrooms, built upon the site of a house occupied by Mr. Barber, were erected in 1842.

COMMUNION PLATE.

The Rev. Ernest Elliott, minister in charge, writes on 7 Sept. 1900, to the Editor:—"I fear it is of no importance from an antiquarian or historical point of view."

On Tuesday, 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the 16th June, 1772, God was pleased to give me a son. It cost its mother dear and brought her to the very Gates of Death : but God stepp'd in and spared. Heaven grant it may live to recompense the tender Mother for what she suffered for him, and prove the Son of Comfort and rejoicing to us both.

Total 29.A Form of Admission into | Church Fellowship. |

This day.....I deliberately and chearfully enter myself a member of the Protestant Dissenting Congregation at Bridgnorth, and make a solemn Dedication of my whole self to God in Christ at the Lord's Table to Confirm my Baptismal Covenant and remember the Death of my Saviour, to be qualified for an interest in his merits and Mediation according to the Tenour of the Gospel; resolving by divine Grace to be an ornament to the Xtian profession and the Church I belong to.

Questions to be ask'd on | this Occasion. |

You give up yours: to God in a peculiar Manner. Will God accept the torn, the blind and the Lame? Surely no. 'Tis worth while at such a time deliberately to ask yourself: What am I? Let the Inquiry be strict, and serious; for a mistake here is fatal.

(1) Have you ever been inwardly Convinc'd of your lost Condition, a Child of Wrath even as others? Did you ever see yourself in a forlorn, helpless state without Christ?

(2) Was you ever deeply humbled before the Lord for your sins, your numberless actual Transgressions in heart and life? Hath sin been bitter to your soul; hath your heart been broken for it; hath your Sorrow been of the right kind; hath the sight of a broken Saviour, broken your heart?

(3) Have you sincerely closed with the Lord J. Xt. by a true and lively faith taken him to be yours; and resigned yours to him to be his? Have you accepted of Xt. upon Gospel Terms; a Prince to rule, and Saviour? Have you renounced all others? Is he precious to you, dearer than any thing in the world, etc.?

(4) Have you a real hatred of every sin in yo'self and others? Can you say with David, I hate every false way? Is it a burden to you? Do you long to be rid of it? Are your resolutions sincere and your endeavours serious against it, and all appearances of it, because it is against God?

[Bound in at end are some pp. of private, and meeting-house accounts, &c., evidently the treasurer's book, and in no way connected with the Register.]

Oswestry Old Chapel Register.

CONGREGATION AND BUILDINGS.

It is not possible to give the exact date of the formation of this church.

A Congregational Church was probably in existence in Sweeney township, some two miles from Oswestry, as early as 1651. Vestiges of the burial-ground are yet visible near the mansion of Sweeney, the residence of Stanley Leighton, Esq., M.P., F.S.A., who is a descendant of Thomas Baker, the then owner, who died 19 March 1675, and whose grave-stone is still there. Mr. Baker was a member of Parliament for Shropshire during the Commonwealth, and also High Sheriff.* By 1659 a meeting-house had been erected in Oswestry. By royal license, dated 25 July 1672, "a room, or rooms in the house of Hugh Edwards, at Oswestry, have been licensed as 'a place for the use of the persuasion commonly called Congregational'". This was situated at the bottom of what is now called Arthur Street. The exact date of the building of the first chapel is not known. A "Deed for ye Seats in ye Chappel" is dated 1701. In 1748 "a Building and Malt Mill, lying in Oswestry, near the Castle Hill, and then, or late in the possession of John Evans," were purchased from "Richard Thomas, of Oswestry, gentleman," and a circular, appealing for funds to convert them into a chapel was issued "to the Ministers of Christ and all other Charitable and well disposed Christians, to whom these presents shall come". It was signed by the pastor, deacons, and leading members "in ye name of all ye rest"; and a recommendation was appended, signed by the Reverends Job Orton, Shrewsbury; Joseph Fownes, Shrewsbury; Ebenezer Keay, Whitchurch; Jen. Jenkins, and Joseph Baker. This chapel was opened for Divine worship in July 1750; it stood on the same site as the present. Old Chapel was converted into Sunday School rooms. In 1783 this chapel was enlarged; in 1794 a gallery was erected, and, in 1808, a further considerable addition was made. In 1830 it again became necessary to enlarge the chapel; so, with the exception of part of one wall, it was razed and rebuilt, and re-opened in April 1830, when the Rev. T. Raffles, D.D., preached one of the sermons. On the 7th September 1871 the memorial stone of the present building—henceforth called Christ Church—was laid, and the new edifice, erected at a cost of some £5,000, was opened on the 18th October 1872. The site, on an improved position, closely adjoins the Old Chapel. The church assumed the Independent or Congregational form of Government during the ministry of the Rev. Edward Williams, D.D., who also established a Sunday School, circa 1781.

* Congregational services were held at Mr. Baker's house at Sweeney, and in the garden are the grave-stones of Abigail, dau. of Sir Richard Chetwood, 1 May 1658; Jane, wife of Ambrose Moston, 26 July 1651; and Thomas Baker, Esq., 19 March 1675.—STANLEY LEIGHTON, 29 August 1900.

COMMUNION PLATE.

Flagon: flat-lidded tankard flagon, with usual purchase and bold handle. Made at Chester, 1690-91; maker R.W.; name unknown. Mr. Wilfrid Cripps attaches especial interest to these marks.

Salver, large Paten on foot, edge of plate and foot gadrooned. Made in London, 1702-3, by John East, who entered his mark at Goldsmiths' Hall, in 1697, and was a maker of repute. He made some of the plate sent by Queen Anne as presents to churches in H.M. plantations in 1705, and other years.

Cup, porringer, with two handles and the usual diagonal fluted ornamentation of the period; made by Nathl. Lock, of London, 1709-10. The above-named plate was bequeathed by Mrs. Sarah Lloyd, of Oswestry, together with £200, in 1727, "for the use of the said Protestant Dissenting congregation, to be used at the Administration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper thereof", and is thus described in her will:—"My largest silver caudle cup, and my largest silver tankard, and my largest silver salver." The coat of arms on tankard is that of Lloyd of Montgomeryshire, viz., (1) Sa. three nags' heads erased, two and one, or (Brockwel, Ysgythrog, Prince of Powys). (2) Sa. a chevron between three owls, or (Broughton).

Two Silver Cups, temp. George III, probably acquired during the pastorate of Rev. Edward Williams, D.D., between 1784 and 1792.

One pewter paten.

All these articles were exhibited in the Ecclesiastical Art Exhibition, held at Shrewsbury in connection with the Church Congress, 1896; and at the Exhibition of Shropshire Antiquities, held at Shrewsbury in 1898, under the auspices of the Shropshire Archæological Society.

The Registers
The Old Dissenting Chapel,
Oldbury,

1715-1745, 1759-1813.

The Old Dissenting Chapel, Oldbury.

NOTES ON THE CHAPEL AND MINISTERS.

CONGREGATION AND BUILDINGS.

The Oldbury to which these extracts relate is situate in Hales Owen. During the period to which these Registers relate it formed part of Shropshire, but by an Order (?) in Council in 18— it was declared to belong to Worcestershire, to which it is now annexed for all civil and (?) religious purposes.

The congregation was originally connected with an earlier building in Oldbury, which was superseded by the present Parish Church in 1841. This building, called Oldbury Chapel, appears to have been in the hands of the Presbyterians before the Act of Uniformity [1662], and for many years they were left in undisturbed possession. It was built by subscription in 1529, and licensed—but not consecrated—by Jerome de Ghinuciis, Bishop of Worcester, an Italian, who was afterwards deprived of his See by Act of Parliament for non-residence. This Chapel, with certain adjoining properties—still in the possession of the School Trustees—was surrendered in the Court of the lord of the manor in 1659, and this is the beginning of its written history. Subsequent surrenders took place at each renewal of the body of Trustees. Dr. Nash, the historian of Worcestershire, says of Bishop Lloyd, one of the seven bishops committed by James II, and who held the See from 1699 to 1717, that he ousted the dissenters from this Chapel, and, notwithstanding the pretence of its standing on copyhold ground, consecrated both Chapel and Cemetery. The present meeting-house was, therefore, a substitute for the Chapel from which the congregation had been ejected. The building was erected on land given in 1708 by John Turton, of the Brades. In 1715, the Tory mob, which had set on fire the Old Meeting, Birmingham, and destroyed the chapel at West Bromwich, came to Oldbury, and set fire to the building while the minister was preaching. The amount of damage done is now unknown. In 1806, the Rev. William Procter was instrumental in getting the meeting-house rebuilt at a cost of about £300. The congregation must have been very small, as those resident in Oldbury only contributed £13. One of the subscribers is still represented by three generations in the present congregation.

In 1862, the building was remodelled and refitted at a cost of £300; and, in 1889, further alterations were effected at a cost of £200. The walls are, however, chiefly the walls of 1806, and a small portion of the original fabric of 1708 still remains. The lectern and communion table are made of oak, which formed part of the pews of the first building; and the pulpit is the same that was used in the second.

Register No. ii is a book of 32 pp., 8 of which are closely written on both sides and 24 blank, 8 in. tall by $5\frac{1}{2}$ in., in a limp marbled paper cover. The heading of p. i is A Register of the children Baptized at Oldbury meeting in ye Parish of Hales Owen, in ye County of Salop. The first entry is Benjamin s. Jos. and Mary White, bap. 20 Jan. 1771; the last of the 103 in the book, Sarah d. Joseph and Phebe Thompson, born 29 Aug. 1813, baptized in Rowley Church.

In sending them to the Registration Commissioners, the Rev. Timothy Davis, writing from Oldbury, 6 May 1837, says:—A Register has been lost, but it is so long since that I have not been able to ascertain the particulars, nor the time over which the register extended, only that it occurred between 1715 and 1776. There were two such registers in the hands of a person whose father had been Clerk to the Chapel, and the difficulty we met with in recovering these^s has, in a measure, caused the delay.

Is it not yet possible by diligent search in and around Oldbury to recover this missing register?

Ellesmere

Independent Chapel Register.

CONGREGATION AND BUILDINGS.

The records relating to the earlier history of this congregation are very meagre and confused. "The Independents have preached here from as far back as somewhere about 1770."* Services were held first in the dwellinghouse of Mr. Francis Lee, by Rev. Edward Williams and his students from Oswestry; then a house was fitted up in St. John's Hill, and afterwards one in Church Street. The Church was formed on Sunday, 12 November 1786. According to a note in the Register, which contains entries other than those of baptisms, the Chapel was erected in 1805-6. The sum of £8 os. 6d. was collected at the opening service, and Sir Rowland Hill gave the congregation £10. The old chapel was replaced by the present building in 1884, the foundation stone being laid on 24th July by the late Thomas Barnes, esq., of the Quinta.

COMMUNION PLATE, ETC.

This was given by Messrs. Menlove, Baugh, Gough, and Roaf, on the occasion of the ordination, on 11 November 1829, of the Rev. Wm. Roaf.

"March 16th, 1787. Recd. a present from Mr. Thomas Jones, of Chester, cutler, two double candlesticks for the pulpit: 'Of thine own have we given unto thee,' 1 Chron. 29, 14. H. Hunt."

Register
Society of Friends,
Shrewsbury.

1657—1834.

Shrewsbury Society of Friends.

The Register here first printed is No. "1558 Society of Friends, Monthly Meeting of Shropshire", now at the General Register Office, in the custody of the Registrar-General. It measures $15\frac{1}{2}$ inches tall by 6 inches wide, and is in its original vellum cover. James Bowden, Recording Clerk of the Society of Friends, in depositing it with the Commissioners on "the 12th day of the 2nd month, 1857", describes it as "the original Register Book of Marriages and Deaths, which has been kept for the Quarterly Meeting of the Society of Friends of Herefordshire, Worcestershire, and Wales; and has been from time to time in the custody of the Registering Officers of the said Quarterly Meeting for the time being." The Commissioners, who "certify that this is one of the Registers which we find to be accurate and faithful", are John S. Burn, W. P. Parken, and Horace Mann.

The entries cover the period from 1657 to 1776.

The Marriage certificates and contracts vary occasionally in form, but not in substance—one or two are here given in full, as examples.

In the History and Antiquities of Shrewsbury, Thos. Phillips, 1837, there is this reference, on p. 109:—"The Quaker's meeting-place was also then where it now is, top of St. John's Hill; it was erected as early as the year 1746, and considerably enlarged in the year 1807."

The building is still the property of the Society of Friends, and attached to it is the small burial ground, neatly laid with grass; there are no headstones nor memorials visible, to any persons here interred.

William Griffin, corn dealer, College Hill, d. 21 Feb. 1864, æt. 68, was one of the last Friends in Shrewsbury actively connected with this meeting-house, though an effective meeting here did not continue up to the date of his decease.

The building is now leased to the Atcham Union, for their offices.

Wm. Gregory Norris, J.P., Coalbrookdale, is the custodian of the Digested Transcript of the Friends' Registers of Births, Marriages, and Burials for the county.

GEORGE EYRE EVANS.

Tan-y-bryn, Aberystwyth,
Easter, 1903.

William Gregory Norris, J.P., kindly furnishes the following valuable historical note:—

The earliest visits of Quaker Preachers to Shrewsbury and its neighbourhood appear to have been about the year 1654. The strangers were apprehended and committed, but were guarded out of town "with a pass towards their own country, but two friends of Shrewsbury, that is to say, William Payne and Katherine Broughton, brought them on their way." George Fox visited Shrewsbury in 1657 and again in 1667. Before 1660 a "hired house in the town of Shrewsbury" was used as the recognised place of Meetings for Worship. After the organisation of the Society had become more settled, it was agreed at a Meeting held at Dolobran in 1668 of "Representatives from ye several Meetings in Shropshire, Montgomeryshire, and Merionethshire," that "Charles Lloyd and Thomas Lloyd doe register all births, marriages and deaths, and sufferings of Friends of all kinds"; and in 1669 it was agreed to purchase "a Meeting Room and an enclosure for a Burying place" in Shrewsbury. Accordingly in 1670, Constantine Overton became the purchaser from John Thomas of two messuages, with their appurtenant gardens and premises, in a certain street called St. John's Hill, and assigned the same to trustees on behalf of the Society. About the same time John Millington gave a part of a garden: and afterwards Owen Roberts contributed £80 to the Society's funds, which were expended about 1750 in the rebuilding of the Meeting Room; which again was rebuilt and enlarged in 1807. From the association of Montgomeryshire with Shropshire the existing Register Book is not complete, and it is believed one or more volumes were lost on the removal of the Lloyd family from Dolobran about 1730. Since about 1710 the Shropshire Registers have been kept more distinctly separate, and they include the other Meetings as well as Shrewsbury, to which centre the present volume chiefly relates. It may not be out of place to explain that the number of signatures to the Registers or Certificates of Marriage arises from the care which was desired to be taken to certify each marriage. That there should be full publicity of the intentions of the parties, after enquiry as to the absence of other engagements and as to the consent of parents or guardians, was the invariable preliminary to the solemnisation of the contract, which also took place publicly, as is the rule at the present time, in a religious Meeting of the Society.

NONCONFORMIST REGISTERS.

PART II.

Note for the Reader.

The Council decided to issue a second and concluding Part, containing twelve more of the earliest of the Nonconformist Registers, making a total of twenty-two that have been printed by the Society. They were copied for the Society by Miss A. M. MacLeod. It is not proposed at present to print any others, as the remaining unprinted Registers are mainly quite modern, and commence in the nineteenth century, some only a few years before 1837.

The Registers of 56 Nonconformist Chapels are preserved at Somerset House. A complete list of these is now given, transcribed by Miss MacLeod from the list of Non-Parochial Registers, printed by the Government in 1859.

It should be noted that the twenty-two Registers printed by the Society have an asterisk prefixed to them in the following list. The dates of the beginning and ending of each Register are given in this list, and the year of the foundation of the several Chapels. The Indexes to the whole of these Registers were compiled by Miss MacLeod.

Clee Hill Wesleyan Chapel.

Register of Births and Baptisms.

This is a small thin book, $8\frac{1}{4}$ inches tall and 7 inches broad, bound in brown leather board. It is No. 9 of the Shropshire Non-Parochial Registers preserved at Somerset House. Clee Hill New Chapel was founded about the year 1796. Since 1829, the Births and Baptisms have been entered at Ludlow.

This Register for Births and Deaths was begun by me in 1797.—RICHD. ELLIOTT, Minister.

[Note.—In this Register there are usually two dates given for each child. The earlier one is the date of birth, the later one the date of baptism. To the latter entry place of residence (frequently misspelt) is added, and the name of the officiating minister.—ED.]

Llanyblodwell, Smyrna Chapel.

Register of Births and Baptisms.

This is a large book, $15\frac{1}{4}$ inches tall and $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches broad, bound in leather boards. It is No. 16 of the Shropshire Non-Parochial Registers preserved at Somerset House. The entries are generally attested by the signatures of parents or nearest friends. There are two dates to each of the entries, the earlier one being the date of birth, and the later one the date of baptism. The children were all baptized by Edward Davies, of Treflach, the minister of the Chapel, except where otherwise stated. Smyrna Chapel was founded about the year 1825.

In this Register, the wife's maiden name is given, in parentheses.

Register of Baptisms solemnized with water in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost, by the Minister of the Congregation of Protestant Dissenters of the Independent Denomination assembled for Religious Worship at Smyrna Chapel, in the parish of Llanyblodwell, in the Co. of Salop.

The superiority of this Form consists in the improved provision which it supplies of the union of an authenticated Register, not only of Baptisms, but also of Births. The Title of the Book is particularized, because it has been determined in the Ecclesiastical Courts that Baptism is not effectual unless it is performed "with Water, and in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

The insertion of the place of birth may assist in the ascertainment of parochial settlements. The reference to the former name of the mother may contribute proof of the time and place of the birth, with which a minister is not personally acquainted, and which he cannot, there-

Ludlow, Corbe Street Chapel.

Register of Births and Baptisms.

This is a small book, $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches tall and $6\frac{3}{4}$ inches broad, in a brown leather cover. It contains entries of births and baptisms from 1802 to 1836; and a leaf at the end has burials from 1826 to 1836, and a list of the names of 25 other persons buried in the Chapel Yard, Corve Street, the burials having been imperfectly registered.

The Corve Street Chapel was founded about 1736, and the congregation worshipped here until 1830, when they built the Old Street Chapel.

The baptisms were taken by D. Francis, pastor, from 1802 to 1824; in 1824-5 by James Hardy; from 1825 to 1835 by James Bidlake; and in 1835-6 by Theophilus Davies, who styles himself "Protestant Dissenting Minister." This Register is No. 17 of the Shropshire Non-Parochial Registers at Somerset House.

Minsterley Independent Chapel.

Register of Births and Baptisms.

This is a large thin volume, with printed headings, 16½ inches tall and 10½ inches broad, and extends from 1806 to 1837. It is No. 46 of the Shropshire Non-Parochial Registers, preserved at Somerset House. The Ministers who sign are George Ryder 1806 to 1815, John Jones Beynon 1817 to 1825, Thomas James 1825 to 1832, and Thomas Jones 1833 to 1837. There is a column for the signatures of parents, but few of these are filled in, and up to 1829 they are generally signed with a mark. The Chapel was founded in 1795.

REGISTER OF THE INDEPENDENT CHAPEL, MINSTERLEY, PAR. WESTBURY, CO. SALOP.

BIRTHS AND BAPTISMS.

The following list was accurately transcribed from the old Register of Baptisms belonging to the Independent denomination of Protestant Dissenters, meeting at Minsterley, in the parish of Westbury, in the County of Salop. All the Children whose names are underneath were regularly and properly baptized (by different Ministers regularly and properly ordained) after the manner of Congregational Dissenters.

I, Thos. James, the Minister of Minsterley pro tempore, do this day, namely 11th of Sept., 1825, pledge myself to the correctiveness of this transcript.

Copied by myself in the above day.

Whixall Independent Chapel.

Register of Baptisms.

The Register consists of three volumes.

Volume I., which measures $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches high and 7 inches broad, is a thick book bound in green cloth boards. It contains entries of Births and Baptisms from 1805 to 1823, but many entries are torn away and others illegible. It is in a bad state of repair, stained and soiled. The volume also contains, on 63 pages, texts of the Sermons preached from 13 October, 1805, to 10 September, 1815, Church Accounts, money collected at the Sacrament, cost of bread and wine, money given to the poor, Sunday School accounts (the teachers were paid sums varying from £2 2s. to £3 5s. a year), and Subscriptions for the preaching of the Gospel at Whixall.

Volume II. is a small book, measuring $9\frac{1}{4}$ by $8\frac{3}{8}$ inches, in boards, and contains Baptisms from 1823 to 1837, and is in good condition.

Volume III. is a small book, measuring $7\frac{1}{2}$ by $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches, in boards, and is also in good condition and legibly written. It contains entries of Births and Baptisms from 1811 to 1837.

These Registers are No. 51 of the Shropshire Non-Parochial Registers preserved at Somerset House.

The Chapel was founded in 1790, but was presumably enlarged or rebuilt and opened on 13 October, 1805. The following is the entry about the opening:—

Texts preached at the New Chapel. 1805, October 13. My new Chapel was opened. Mr. Everal began the service with Reading. Mr. Edwards prayed. Mr. Ralphs, of Liverpool, preached from Isaiah 60th chapter, latter part of the 7th and 8th verse, "And I will glorify the House of my Glory. Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows."

In the afternoon Mr. Weaver preached from 1st Peter, 2nd chapter, 4th verse, "To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious."

In the evening a double lecture. Mr. Wilson preached from 2nd Isaiah, 3rd verse, "And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the House of the God of Jacob."

In the evening Mr. Ralph preached from Mathew the 2nd, 1st and 2nd, "Behold there came wise men from the East to Jerusalem, saying, Where is He that is born King of the Jews, and are come to worship Him."

The Texts are given to 3 September, 1815.

Then follow entries of Baptism.

PRIVATELY PRINTED FOR THE
SHROPSHIRE PARISH REGISTER SOCIETY.

1913.

Note for the Reader.

For this interesting volume of the Roman Catholic Baptismal Registers of Shropshire, we are indebted to the Rev. Fr. Kinsella, who has most kindly himself transcribed these Registers and has also seen them through the press. These five baptismal Registers, together with the burial Register of White Ladies (which was printed in volume III. of the Registers of Lichfield Diocese), complete the Roman Catholic Registers of the County to the year 1837. Many burials of Roman Catholics will be found scattered throughout the various printed volumes of Parish Registers.

Mr. Henry F. J. Vaughan has written the very able and valuable historical Introduction, in which he has endeavoured to trace the history of Roman Catholicism in Shropshire from the death of Queen Mary to the present day, and he has given some account of the old Catholic families and the origin of the various Missions in the County. It is well worth careful study, and it contains many new facts. It is, of course, written from the Roman Catholic standpoint, and the members of the Council of the Society do not necessarily agree with every conclusion Mr. Vaughan has drawn, nor do they accept every statement of his.

We most cordially thank Fr. Kinsella and Mr. Vaughan for their work in connection with the printing of this volume.

It is intended that these Registers shall be bound up in a volume with the Nonconformist Registers of the County, of which Part I. has already been issued, and Part II., containing several other Registers, and a General Index to the whole is to follow.

The Roman Catholic Registers of Shropshire.

On Thursday, 17th November, 1558, Mary Tudor, Queen of England, lay dying in the Palace of St. James's. Mass was being said in her Chamber, for England was then a Catholic nation, but ere the last word of the solemn rite had sounded, the soul of the Queen had departed to its doom. A few hours later the chamber of death heard the shouts of the populace vociferating 'God Save Queen Elizabeth,' who was proclaimed the same day. Queen Mary's friend and kinsman, Cardinal Pole, died only twenty-two hours later than herself. The Kingdom was divided between the rights of two who could claim the crown, and even foreign countries shared in the dilemma. Elizabeth Boleyn was Queen by her father's will, while Mary of Scotland was the legitimate heir. However, Elizabeth became 'de facto' Queen of England and was duly crowned, taking the usual Coronation Oaths to maintain and uphold the Church, &c.

In tracing the abnormal position of Catholics in England it is not necessary to enter into religious controversy, nor must it be forgotten that the 16th century was not one in which either toleration or comprehension in the 20th century meaning of the term, was understood or appreciated. Hence, it is necessary to glance at the legislation carried on during Elizabeth's reign, which caused the dividing line between those who remained in the old ways and those who followed the new path of the legislature.

In the first year of Elizabeth was passed the Act to restore to the Crown the jurisdiction over the estate ecclesiastical and spiritual, abolishing all foreign powers. This Act repeals the legislation of the previous reign restoring the Catholic religion, and re-enacts that of Edward VI. The penalties attached to it were forfeiture of office, imprisonment and death as for High Treason. Archbishops and Bishops were to take an Oath that the Queen's Highness is the only Supreme Governor of this realm as well in all Spiritual or Ecclesiastical things as Temporal, and that no foreign prince, prelate, or potentate hath or ought to have any jurisdiction or authority ecclesiastical or spiritual, within this realm.

Is it to be wondered at, that the Earl of Shrewsbury and the Viscount Montague stood up in the House of Peers, and placing their hands upon their breasts solemnly declared, that it consisted not with their honour to cast off their spiritual allegiance to the Pope, the Patriarch of the West, which they had so lately affirmed.

Here, then, is the dividing line, the question of the spiritual and temporal power. Both are immediately from God the fount of all authority, but Catholics have always referred the former to the head of the Church, though maintaining the latter to belong to the Sovereign of the kingdom. Hence also arose the nickname of 'Papist,' used to indicate those who attributed spiritual power to the Pope alone. It is curious that this name appears constantly in the lists of the Elizabethan and subsequent Bishops, thus affording incontrovertible evidence that England was never without its 'Papists,' who form an indigenous part of the English people, and are those who maintained the old faith of the country without alteration.

The next Act on the part of the Government, which widened the breach between those who stood firm and those whose religious belief was made to coincide with the demands of the Government, was the first Act of Uniformity of Common Prayer, &c. This Act, together with a subsequent one (13 and 14 Charles II.), used to be bound up with the Book of Common Prayer. It established a form of Liturgy, Service and Ordination founded upon the second Book of Common Prayer of Edward VI., and being ordered to be the only form to be used, abolished the Mass and other Catholic rites. This Act also obliges all persons to attend this form of worship on Sundays and Holydays, allowing the Bishop to punish such as refused. Hence arose another word, recusant, typifying those who declined to join in this service, and so in conjunction with the former appellative, arose the well-known expression "Popish Recusants."

It must be remembered that the greater part of the English people were Catholics at the time of Elizabeth's accession, and considerable difficulty was encountered in many places in introducing the English Service. In our own county it is related of Sir John Harley, of Brampton, that during the time of this service he walked up and down the Church reading aloud from his Latin book of prayers, of which he understandeth not one word, so that no one can hear what was said. Many of those also who conformed had a deep sympathy with their recusant neighbours, and did all in their power to assist them secretly, disliking this persecuting spirit. Indeed, Sir Moreton Brigges, of Haughton, was fined for not getting a larger sum out of Shropshire recusants, and in the next county, complaints of the same character are made against Mr. Bagot and Mr. Trentham, and so in most other counties. It is difficult to imagine how, under subsequent legislation, any Catholics could have survived had they not been so helped by men whose sense of justice and fair play revolted against such tyrannical Acts.

By an Act of 5 Elizabeth it was an offence to attribute any manner of jurisdiction to the See of Rome under penalties of Praemunire and Treason, while all persons were to take the oath declaring the Queen's Highness to be only Supreme Governor, temporal and spiritual in these realms. By the 13 Elizabeth all persons bringing into this realm any Bull from Rome, Agnus Dei, beads, &c., and anyone absolving or reconciling any person, were subject to the penalty of death as for treason. The same penalty awaits all who withdraw 'from the religion now by Her Highness's authority established,' while every person singing or saying Mass or willingly hearing Mass is to forfeit 200 marks, and to remain in gaol for one year until the fine is paid. All above 16 years of age not attending the place of Common Prayer are to pay £20 per month, which sum would now equal over £200.

In most Catholic families long lists of the payments of these fines are still preserved, and the remarkable thing is how the money was collected to pay them year after year. It slowly but surely impoverished even wealthy families, which were forced little by little to part with portions of their estate. A well-known instance in our County being the ancient family of Lacon, of Willey, so shrewdly shattered in estate that they were finally compelled to sell it to the Welds.

In the 27th year of Elizabeth was passed an Act by which any Jesuit, Seminary or other Priest ordained by any authority derived from the See of Rome since the first year of Her Majesty's reign, shall depart out of her dominions, or if they come into, be, or remain there, they shall be liable to be adjudged traitors, any person relieving or maintaining such, shall suffer death as a felon. It is further enacted, that to send relief to such persons or any College abroad involves Præmunire, any parent sending his child abroad incurs a fine of £100, and anyone concealing such persons as are mentioned above is to be imprisoned during pleasure.

A further Act was passed in the 35 Elizabeth to enforce attendance at Church, 'to hear divine service established by Her Majesty's Laws and Statutes,' a curious way of putting the matter. Everyone who kept a recusant in their house after admonition by the Bishop or Justice was to pay a fine of £10 per month, and all recusants are ordered not to remove more than 5 miles from their place of abode. By Section 11 of this Act, anyone suspected to be a Jesuit, Seminary or Massing Priest and not answering satisfactorily was to be imprisoned until he did so.

Such is some of the Elizabethan legislation against those who adhered to the ancient Faith and refused to change it for the religion established by 'the Queen's Statutes,' and upon consideration of it, those words spoken in the House of Commons by Mr. Balfour seem not too strong. 'No religion has suffered more than the Roman Catholic religion where Roman Catholics are in a minority. They suffered it at our hands in the 18th century, they are suffering it at this moment in those countries where there is a strong anticlerical majority . . . nothing is more scandalous or more shameful in British history than some of the penal laws and some of the uses made of them in times gone by to divert people from the Faith of their forefathers.'

The series of persecutions emanating, under Elizabeth, from such men as Cecil, Walsingham, Dudley, &c., did not at first affect the character of Catholics. It was impossible for those who had grown up as friends and neighbours, knowing each other intimately, to change in a moment, and so among the upper classes there was a sympathy of those who had conformed to the new religious legislation, with those who remained as they all had been in the late reign and as shewn above, the laws were, as far as they dared, mitigated. But as years passed on there was a sensible cleavage between those who enjoyed the full liberty of Englishmen and those who were cut off from that liberty by penal legislation. It was inevitable that Catholics themselves should change, for they had now to practice their religion under penalty of a death of loathsome obscenity and brutal, bloody, butchery. Their Priests had to be concealed, hiding places had to be constructed in ancient homes, and their children must grow up deprived of the education fitting their quality, or at best, by braving the death penalty, escaping to some college abroad, whence they returned with what Englishmen have always disliked, a foreign taint.

Incidentally this Elizabethan penal code had the effect of destroying the old English 'Uses,' e.g., those of York, Salisbury, Hereford, &c., which many archaeologists deplore, since it is evident that the greatest inconveniences must have arisen when men accustomed to those different uses, lived together in one college, and one Priest said Mass after the Bangor rite, another after Hereford, another after Sarum, &c. It was necessary that one common rite or use should be carried out by all, and so it was decided that the most ancient use or rite, that of Rome, from which the others were derived, should for the future be alone employed, consequently the rest perished by desuetude.

But a darker hour was to come over the Catholics of England. As they had been loyal to their faith so also had they been loyal to the throne, and when the dreaded Spanish Armada approached these shores, many of the richer Catholics raised forces, which they were not allowed to command, for the protection of England. The political outlook gave them a ray of hope, for the next heir to the throne was Mary Queen of Scots, who even now, by just right, bore on her signet the Arms of England and Scotland quarterly, which much incensed Elizabeth. It was hoped, therefore, that under Mary and her successors the persecution would cease, and Catholics enjoy equal rights and justice with their fellow Englishmen. This hope was doomed to destruction. Queen Mary was murdered, and when James came to the English throne he made only a few futile attempts to stem the course of persecution. Spies and paid informers abounded, gentle people languished and died in prison, Priests were martyred, and so the little flock grew less and less, and their wealth melted away under the enormity of their fines and confiscations. Then came the tragedy of the false Popish Plot got up to discredit Catholics, and supported by such men as the perjured Titus Oates, and Bedloe, under whose accusations some of England's best blood, innocent of crime, was poured out on the scaffold.

It was the policy of the Government of that time to attribute great crimes to the Papists and thus rob them of the sympathy and commiseration of their fellow Englishmen. They were accused of causing the Great Fire of London as well as of the Popish Plot, and modern investigations have made it probable that the Gunpowder Plot has been greatly exaggerated so that the design of a few men, driven to desperation by persecution, has been attributed to the whole religious body to which they belonged. Let us be thankful that we live in times when the spirit of toleration and fair play has greater scope, when Catholics may deplore the persecutions under Queen Mary and others those which extended from the time of Elizabeth to the present day.

To make our history complete, let us briefly pass over the internal arrangements of Catholics. The last of the Catholic Bishops consecrated in Queen Mary's time, Thomas Watson, Bishop of Lincoln, died imprisoned in Wisbeach Castle in September, 1584, and Thomas Goldwell, Bishop of St. Asaph, died at Rome, 3rd April, 1585. The Catholics of England then fell under the supervision of Cardinal Allen, born in Lancashire, 1532, though of a Yorkshire stock, who was educated at and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford, and became a Canon of York in 1558.

With respect to Shropshire (the See of Hereford being vacant), the last of the ancient Catholic Hierarchy who had jurisdiction over the principal part of the County, was Ralph Bayne, Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, who was deprived and imprisoned for not conforming to the new legislation, and died about the 18th November, 1559. After Cardinal Allen's death in 1594, owing to the fierceness of the persecution, it was not deemed advisable to send a Bishop into England, but in 1599, Pope Clement VIII. appointed an Archpriest, with twelve assistants, who formed a kind of Chapter, and in case of his death or imprisonment, might rule in his stead. The first to occupy this position was Rev. George Blackwell, formerly a Fellow of Trinity College, Oxford, who ruled from 1599 to 1608, when he was succeeded by Rev. George Birkhead or Birket, to whom Rev. William Harrison succeeded in 1614, and died in 1621. He repeatedly applied for a Bishop for England, and in 1623 Dr. William Bishop was consecrated Bishop of Chalcedon and constituted Vicar Apostolic of England, but only survived his consecration one year, being followed by Bishop Richard Smith from 1625 to 1655. From 1655 to 1685, which, it will be remembered includes the troublous time of the Commonwealth, no resident Bishop was appointed, but the Church was ruled by the Dean and Chapter, which had been appointed as assistants of the Archpriest. In 1685, Dr. John Leybourne, a member of an old Westmorland family, was consecrated titular Bishop of Adrumetum, and appointed Vicar Apostolic of England, and it was during his tenure of that office that James the Second became King. Dr. Leybourne endeavoured, though in vain, to moderate the indiscreet zeal of that Monarch, and in the matter of Magdalen College, Oxford, bluntly told His Majesty that the Fellows and Students were wronged by his action of thrusting Dr. Giffard on them as President, and that restitution ought to be made to them on conscientious grounds.

In 1688, it was decided to divide England into four Vicariates Apostolic, called respectively the London, Midland, Northern, and Western Districts, and since our County of Shropshire became included in the second of these divisions, it fell under the jurisdiction of Dr. Bonaventure Giffard, who ruled from 1688 to 1703, when he was transferred to the London District. Dr. Giffard was of the ancient family of that name so long seated at Chillington on the borders of our County, being the third son of Andrew Giffard, killed in a skirmish in the Civil War (by Catherine Leveson his wife), younger son of William Giffard of Chillington, whose father, John, had entertained Queen Elizabeth at Chillington, and who married Joyce, daughter of James Leveson, of Lilleshall and Trentham. Upon his removal to London in 1703, Dr. George Witham was appointed and ruled until 1715. He was of the ancient family seated at Cliffe, Co. York, being the second son of George Witham, of Cliffe, by Grace, daughter of Sir Marmaduke Wyville, Bart., of Burton Constable, Co. York. Upon his death in 1756, Dr. John Hornyold was appointed, the second son of John Hornyold, of Blackmore Park, Co. Worcester, and Knightley, Co. Salop, by Mary, daughter of Sir Pyers Mostyn, of Talacre, Bart. He was succeeded by Honourable Thomas Talbot, brother of George, Earl of Shrewsbury, who ruled until 1775, when Dr. Charles Berington, third son of Thomas Berington, of Moat Hall and Shrewsbury, was appointed, of whose family more hereafter. In 1800, Dr. Gregory Stapleton succeeded to the office, and lived near Wolverhampton (Longbirch?) He had been the first President of St. Edmund's College, Herts., where his two nephews, Colonel and Major Stapleton, the former a distinguished officer in the Peninsular War, were educated under him. Dying suddenly at St. Omer's, he was followed by the well-known Dr. John Milner in 1803, who had been his secretary and to whom he was much attached. Dr. Milner describes his predecessor as a 'gentleman of ancient family and unimpeachable orthodoxy and morality.' Dr. Milner, whose real name was Miller, had been elected a Fellow of the Society of Antiquaries in 1790, and was a man of strong character. His residence was at Longbirch, an old mansion near Chillington, which belonged to the Giffards. Upon his death in 1826, Dr. Thomas Walsh was appointed, but in 1840, England was again divided into eight Districts, Shropshire forming part of the Central one, to which Bishop Walsh was transferred, and upon his death in 1848, Dr. W. B. Ullathorne succeeded and held the position until the restoration of the Hierarchy in 1850, when the counties of Salop and Cheshire, with North Wales, were constituted a Diocese, and Dr. James Brown was consecrated the first Bishop. Dying in 1881 he was succeeded by Dr. Edmund Knight, a son of Sir Arnold Knight of the City of York, who had been previously Vice-President of St. Mary's College, Oscott, but he resigned the See in 1895, and died in 1905, his successor being Dr. J. Carroll. Upon the death of Dr. Carroll in 1897, Dr. S. Webster Allen, who had been connected with Shrewsbury since 1870, was consecrated Bishop, and he was succeeded at his death in 1908 by the present Bishop, Dr. Hugh Singleton. The restoration in 1850 of the Episcopal Hierarchy caused at the time a great fanatical commotion chiefly led by the Whig party, which ended in some abortive Acts of Parliament generally ridiculed, as the common sense of the English people regained its equilibrium, and they found that none of the terrible prognostications of these political fanatics came to pass. The latest development of Catholic Church government has taken place in our own time, when on 28th October, 1911, the Hierarchy was reconstructed and now consists of three Metropolitan Sees, viz., London, Birmingham, and Liverpool, each having its Archbishop and thirteen Suffragan Sees.

For nearly three centuries the English people were taught to fear the Catholic Church, chiefly for political reasons, and on some occasions this took an acute form, as in the riots fomented by that wild fanatic, Lord George Gordon; but in our own days of wider knowledge and greater toleration, this fear is dying down, though it still lurks among the ignorant and half educated. What is called 'the Oxford movement' greatly conduced to this desirable result, when the people saw men of the highest intellect and irreproachable honour, who had been educated as Englishmen in their own old Universities sacrificing all worldly considerations to return to the old Faith, and when received within the Church, occupying positions of the highest responsibility and honour.

Historically speaking then, there have always been Catholics in England, always Catholic Priests in England, and what is more, the great Monastic Order of the West, the dignified and learned sons of St. Benedict never left this country, but have continued their regular succession of Abbots. However, this body, which clung so persistently to their Faith, grew less and less in numbers, and we shall find their Faith was principally kept alive by certain ancient families under whose protection the humbler or more dependent members were able to rest in quietude. This was especially the case in counties more remote from London, so that Dr. Aylmer, the Elizabethan Bishop of that See suggests using some of the more violent puritans that as he says 'these men in mine opinion might by toleration be profitably employed in Lancashire, Staffordshire, Shropshire, and such other like barbarous countries to draw the people from Papism and gross ignorance.'

Since no marriage was allowed as legal except such as took place before a clergyman of the established Church, it happens that where Catholics were married privately by one of their own clergy, such marriage is ignored and the issue put down as illegitimate, which creates a false impression in many cases.

Another preliminary difficulty to marriage in those days was caused by the Five Mile Act, and there are instances in many of the old Catholic families of permission granted for the purpose of young people meeting. The following instance, though it may now raise a smile, shews the indignities to which Catholics, even those of high position, were subjected: "1696, April 8, Durham, Licence under the hand and seals of Robert Ellison, Jo. Gordon, Mayor, Geo. Morland and Jo. Sedgwick for Thomas Maire of the City of Durham, gentleman, being a popish recusant convict, with his servant John Joppling, also a papist, who by lawes and statutes are restrained from travelling above five miles from their place of abode." Maire had informed them, four of His Majesty's Justices of the Peace, that he had occasion to travel into the County of Oxford to court a young lady in order to a marriage, and had taken an oath that this was the true cause. They gave licence to him and his servant to go to Oxford and to be absent three months, and then he is to return to Durham. Again, 1696, June 11, Council Chamber, Whitehall, Licence under the hands of J. (Earl of) Bridgewater and the Earls of Stamford, Scarborough and Romney, and countersigned by Cha. Montague for Thomas Maire, Esqre., and his wife with four servants to go from Tusmore in Oxfordshire to his home in the County of Durham, notwithstanding the late proclamation of the 25th February last.

One more personal piece of persecution may be mentioned, especially since we have an instance in the case of a Shropshire man. One of the Plowden family when at his seat of Aston le Walls, in Oxfordshire, drove into a neighbouring town, having some fine, valuable horses in his carriage. One of the neighbouring gentry (save the name) of Whig propensities, came up to the carriage and, offering £5 a piece for the horses, took them away, under an Act of Parliament which allowed that anyone seeing horses of the value of more than £5 in the possession of a Papist, might offer the £5 and take the horses. Mr. Plowden was so disgusted with this mean affront that he reduced his mansion to the state of a farm house and left Oxfordshire in contempt.

Since Catholics, that is Papists, were subjected to such mean and personal persecution for their Faith, it was necessary for them to leave as few records of themselves and their friends as possible, thus causing the loss of much valuable historical matter, which at the present day we all deplore; but in going through Catholic records, the presence of these disadvantages must be borne in mind, and we must recollect that we have before us not a full account but rather that which incidentally remains. As to the Priests who served the adherents of the old Faith in the County, practically nothing is known, as during penal times they had no fixed residence, and one of their chief preoccupations was to keep their names, their disguises and their existence a secret from the authorities. They usually had many aliases and this adds to the difficulty of tracing them. Then again in the various country houses which served them as hiding places and refuges, and also as chapels, they were anxious to leave in writing behind them no trace of their presence and their work. This accounts for the absence of baptismal registers. Most of our county registers go back no further than the middle of the 18th century, when the pressure of persecution was beginning somewhat to relax.

So difficult was it to find written testimony of baptisms that not infrequently before ordination the Seminarists were baptized conditionally even though they had been born of Catholic parents, and there was overwhelming probability of their baptism. Mgr Canon Ward, of St. Edmund's College, Ware, says 'in our early Ordination lists here, we find a large number who were conditionally baptized first, although they had been born Catholics, and in all probability had been duly baptized in infancy, but no direct proof was obtainable.

A fortiori the marriage registers are non-existent, as it was a penal offence for a Priest to marry people, and hence the records were naturally kept as privately as possible.

Among the Catholic missions, that of our County Town first calls for attention. The old Faith was kept alive in Shrewsbury by the ancient family of Berington, of Mote Hall, and Berington Square, Shrewsbury, but the Irelands, of Albrighton Hall remained Catholics until after the accession of the Hanoverian Sovereigns, and other families are known to have retained the Faith until about the same period. In 1715, Elizabeth Ireland registers her estate by jointure, at Shrewsbury. She was widow of Thomas Ireland, eldest son of Robert Ireland, by Lucie, daughter of Thomas Leigh, of Adlington. The family is descended from a younger son of Adam Ireland, of Hale and the Hutt, Co. Lancaster, and were early connected with Oswestry. Richard Ireland of that town married Tibot, daughter of Roger Salter of the same place. Their second son Thomas, married Mabel, daughter of Hoel ab Morris Kyffin (a descendant of Einion Evell, lord of Oswestry, natural son of Madoc ab Merrdydd Prince of Powys, from whom also descend the Kyffins, Vaughans, Edwardes, &c.), and left four daughters co-heirs of their brother, from one of whom, Gwenhwyfer, descended the Owens of Conover. From his brother Robert Ireland, of Shrewsbury, came a son David of Shrewsbury, 1592, who by Catherine, daughter and coheir of Robert Knight of Shrewsbury (afterwards married to Robert Dudley) was father of Thomas of Albrighton, buried 10th November, 1554, husband of Jane, daughter of William Oteley, of Pitchford, and father of George, 1592, whose son (by Mary, sole daughter and heir of Thomas Purcell, of Vainor), Thomas of Albrighton was Sheriff of Shropshire in 1632, and having married Jane, daughter of Roland Dutton, of Halton, Co. Chester, was father of Robert Ireland mentioned above as husband of Lucie Leigh. Thomas Ireland, of Albrighton, son of the above-named Thomas and Elizabeth, succeeded to Albrighton, and in his will dated 25th March, 1729, mentions his wife Mary and children. The writer is kindly informed by the present owner of the Albrighton estate that the last of the Irelands died there in 1792, soon after which it was sold.

But the family which principally sustained the cult of the ancient Faith in Shrewsbury was that of Berington of Moat Hall, an ancient seat near that town which still remains in the same name. Like most of the chief families of the County they had their town house in Shrewsbury, near St. Alkmund's Church, where Berington House still exists, some account of which may be found in an excellent work on "The old houses of Shrewsbury."

Roger Berington is the first recorded in the Visitation of 1623, who married Alice, eldest daughter and coheir of John de Ireland, by Alice, daughter of Richard de Eyton, of Eyton, near Pitchford. This John de Ireland rejoices in a somewhat weird genealogy, being called son of Sir Walter Fitzroy of Ireland, by Juliana, daughter of Nicholas Monemew, which Sir Walter was son of Edward I., King of England, by a daughter of the Earl of Kildare, in Ireland, so the redoubted Edward seems to have achieved conquests in Ireland as well as in Wales and Scotland. William, son and heir of Roger, married Agnes, dr. of John Baldwin, of Salop, whose son Thomas was father of Robert, father of another Thomas, who by Isabel, daughter of John Shotton, of Salop, had issue John, who married Elizabeth Schrimshire, a family once seated at Aqualate. Their son Thomas took to wife Cecilia, daughter of Roger Thornes, of Salop, a lady of some distinction, her mother having been Jane, daughter of Sir Roger Kynaston, by Elizabeth, daughter of Henry Grey, Earl of Tankerville, while her father was six times Bayliff of Shrewsbury, and obtained the soubriquet of 'the wise Thornes,' which he may have gained from his mother Mary, daughter of Sir Roger Corbet, of Morton. Their son, Roger of Shrewsbury, married twice; by his second wife Frances, daughter of John Haughton, of Beckbury, he had a son Richard and a daughter Eleanor, wife of Thomas Stephens, of London, whose daughter Elizabeth married Isaac Scott, of Shrewsbury, but by his first wife Margaret, daughter and heir of John Lynde (from Wisbeach, Co. Camb.), he was father of Thomas, of Moat Hall, in 1623, whose first wife was a daughter of Richard Sandford, of the Isle of Rossall, and his second Elizabeth, a daughter of Richard Allen and mother of the heir William, 25 years old in 1623, and who was buried at Pontesbury, 10th November, 1666, leaving issue by his wife Magdalen, daughter of John Lutley, of Bromscroft, a son Thomas, of Moat Hall, in 1663, buried at Pontesbury 28th October, 1719. This Thomas married Anne, second daughter of John Berington, of Winsley, Co. Hereford (buried at Pontesbury, 19th November, 1696), and had seven children, of whom Thomas was Dean of the Chapter and died 1755, while his brother William, by his wife Mary, nee More, had at least four children. However, by the death of Thomas Berington, sp., and also Philip Berington, of Stock, Co. Essex, the Salopian branch of the family became extinct and the estate was bequeathed to the Beringtons of Little Malvern Court, descendants of the Beringtons of Winsley, in which family it remains.

Some of the above notes were given to the writer by the late Dom Adam Hamilton, O.S.B., of Buckfast Abbey, but he has to thank Canon Moriarty, D.D., of Shrewsbury, for the following inscriptions referring to the family and other information.

Dr. Berington is mentioned several times in the 'Records of the Plowden family' as attending upon various members of it during illness. Some time late in the 18th century a chapel was built on the Town Walls below the Lion Stables; attached to it was a priest's house. Since then a regular succession of Priests has been maintained.

The great House of Talbot, though much connected with Shropshire, seems to be less so with the County Town, but a brass in the Church records that Earl Bertram was its founder. Earl John was also a benefactor, and one of them gave some vestments of exquisite workmanship to be used in the services. It was opened in 1856, and the old chapel was then used as the elementary school until 1892, when the new schools were built. In 1895 the old chapel was demolished and dwelling houses built in its place.

The Newport Mission is virtually the development of the Chaplaincy of the Talbots at their old seat of Longford, which had been in the family for some centuries before it was sold in 1788 to Mr. Leeke for £27,000, an event deplored by many of Lord Shrewsbury's friends. An old mansion in the neighbourhood called Salter's Hall, having been formerly the seat of the Salter family, one of whom, a judge, is buried in Newport Church with an alabaster altar tomb, was purchased, partly re-built and added to, and a chapel adjoining erected upon part of the garden to serve for the Catholics of the neighbourhood. The Talbots had a chantry chapel of their own in the old Church of Longford, of which they retained possession after the re-building of the parish Church on another part of the churchyard, but the chief part of the Talbot property in this County lay at Albrighton, and extended at one time to Shiffnal. Their residence at Albrighton was Pepper Hill, but the Shiffnal part of the estate passed with Lady Alethea Howard, finally sole heir of Gilbert, 7th Earl of Shrewsbury, to her husband Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel. Longford became the property of a younger son under the Will of Gilbert Talbot (eldest son of Sir Gilbert Talbot of Grafton), who by his Will in 1542 left his Manor of Longford to his son Humphrey.

The necessity for concealment which harrassed Catholics made Salter's Hall, a desirable spot for building a chapel, situated as it is in the outskirts of Newport on the road to Longford, in a quiet and retired neighbourhood. In the entrance of the Chapel is an account of 136 persons who suffered fines and imprisonment for the old Faith in the neighbourhood. The list contains the names not only of gentle people like the Pigotts, Talbots, Fforsters, Ffowkes, Whitgreaves, &c., but also of yeomen and 'poor' men, with their wives and daughters. If it be asked how could working people pay such a fine as £120 (which would equal £1,200 at the present day) the reply is, they could not do it, and so as an alternative had to linger out their lives rotting in prison until death relieved them. It is a pathetic thought, the amount of misery represented by such a list, and to know that the same thing was going on all over England. We admire the children in the fiery furnace of old and the prophet in the den of lions for refusing to give up their ancestral Faith at the word of a wilful King, let us not stint our meed of admiration for those who followed their example.

Some seven miles to the south-east of Shrewsbury, lies Acton Burnell, a parish, if the expression may be used, replete with history. It is one of the six places in Shropshire having the cognomen of Acton, and received the name of one of the early and most celebrated owners to distinguish it from others. The Burnells held the manor under the Corbets and became a family of the greatest influence in the time of Edward I., who appointed Robert Burnell, his Secretary, to the Chancery of England. So excellent was the advice given to his Sovereign by this remarkable man that Edward gained the surname of 'the English Justian.' In a parliament held at Acton Burnell was passed the celebrated Act de Mercatoribus, and in the same parliament the wicked murder of the last British Prince was determined upon. Chancellor Burnell also decided between the several claimants for the throne of Scotland in favour of John Baliol. We next find the ancient family of Lee of Langley in possession of the estate, of which Sir Humphrey was the first man to be created a Baronet in Shropshire. But the estate passed with Mary, daughter and coheir of his son Richard, to her husband, Edward Smythe, of Eshe Hall, Co. Durham, with whose descendants it still remains. At one time when expelled from Douai by the French Revolution, the Monastic Order of St. Benedict, which has always remained in England and so kept up its English Province, settled at Acton Burnell, and the Chaplaincy here has since been served by those Monks, the great body of whom passed on to Downside, Belmont, near Hereford, and other places. It is scarcely too much to say that to this great Order Western Europe owes its civilization, for they preserved to us the sources of learning and fundamentals of the Christian Faith. The latest historical incident relative to Acton Burnell has been furnished by the permission of the late King Edward VII. to make known the contents of certain secret papers formerly carefully preserved in Coult's Bank, but now at Windsor Castle. One of these documents is the attestation or register of a marriage which took place at her house in Park Street, Park Lane, London, between George Frederick Augustus Prince of Wales, and Maria Fitzherbert, the owner of the house, now pulled down. This marriage took place on the 15th December, 1785, in the presence of John Smythe and Henry Errington. Maria Fitzherbert now so celebrated for the romance of her career and the excellence of her life, was the daughter of Walter Smythe of the Acton Burnell family. Her father had taken Tong Castle in Shropshire from the Duke of Kingston and here, as the late Madame Durant, of Tong Castle told the writer, Mary Anne Smythe was born, in the red room, on 26th July, 1756. She usually signed herself Maria. The Tong Castle estate was sold to the Durant family by the Duke of Kingston in 1762. Mrs. Fitzherbert exercised a beneficial influence in the direction of Catholics, though her life was one of great trial, and it is probably owing to her that the Prince shewed many acts of kindness to exiled Priests and Religious at the time when the French Revolution drove so many from their country. Others, however, came to the succour of these unfortunate people, and in our County we have a noble example in the Forester family, who gave up their seat of Dothill Park, near Wellington, (derived from Steventon) for the use of some of the emigré clergy. The owners of the Acton Burnell estate have always been Catholics.

In the south-west part of Shropshire, where the formation of hill and dale, moorland and wood make pleasing variety and suggest the near contiguity of wild Wales, there lies in the recesses of a valley, well sheltered from storm and wind, an ancient home built and inhabited by a still more ancient family. Old Plowden Hall, still the Hall of the Plowdens, dates for the most part, from the Elizabethan period, but portions of the original house of a much earlier date survive. The family pedigree is lost in the mist of ages, but there must have been many owners of Plowden before the good man Roger de Plowden, who accompanied Richard I. at the Siege of Acre in 1191, and who from that exploit traditionally decorated his shield with the golden fleur de lis, it having previously borne only a fess dancetté or on its azure field. It is probable that our 'barbarous' part of the country as Dr. Aylmer calls it, was little disturbed by troubles which arose under the Tudors and until Elizabeth gained the English throne, the Plowdens kept the quiet tenour of their way, but Edmund Plowden of that date was far too brilliant a legal luminary to be hidden, and Elizabeth, a clever woman, was anxious to have men of superior mental ability in her service. She wrote an autograph letter to Edmund Plowden offering him the Chancellorship of England if he would change his religion. His answer is still extant: 'Hold me, dread Sovereign, excused, your Majesty well knows I find no reason to swerve from the Catholic Faith in which you and I were brought up, I can never therefore countenance the persecution of its professors, I should not have in charge your Majesty's conscience one week before I should incur your displeasure, if it be your Majesty's Royal intent to continue the system of persecuting the retainers of the Catholic Faith.' Sergeant Plowden had been a Member of Parliament under Mary, and is said to have headed a body of members who seceded from the House after vainly opposing the persecution of Protestants in that reign.

In the domestic Chapel at Plowden Hall is a brass, removed from the Church at Bishop's Castle, whereon are depicted Humphrey Plowden, his wife and seven daughters, with the following inscription in latin :

 ' Here lies Humphrey Plowden, Esqre., son of John Plowden, who was the son of Edmund Plowden, and Elizabeth his wife, daughter of John Sturry, of Down Rossall, Esqre., and formerly wife of William Wollascott and the said Humphrey, died March 10, 1557, and had issue, Edmund Plowden, who was a lawyer and who resided at one time at Shiplake in Oxfordshire, at another time at Burghfield in Berkshire, John, who died without issue, and Edward and seven daughters, viz., Margaret, who married Richard Sandford, Jane, who married firstly Richard Blunden of Burghfield, in Berkshire, and secondly Lewis Jones, Elizabeth married Peter Greenway, Anchoret married Rowland Eyton, of Eyton, Anne, Thomas Higge, Mary, Charles Needham, Joyce, Leonard Meysie—.

A fragment of an old pedigree says that the above Edward Plowden married Mary, daughter of Thomas Lee, of Langley, and left a son Humphrey, and we learn further particulars from the family papers of the Sandfords of the Isle and from Harl. MS., 1666, which contains a Plowden pedigree, from which it would appear that the Mary Plowden who married Charles Needham subsequently became the wife of Thomas Lee, of Langley, and had a daughter Jane, wife of Edward Giffard, of the Whiteladies, near Boscobel, whose daughter Jane Giffard, buried at Fitz, March 25th, 1671, was wife of Humphrey Sandford of the Isle, ob. 28th March, 1654, son of Humphrey Sandford by Anne, daughter of Thomas Lascelles, of Brakenburgh, and grandson of the Richard Sandford of the Isle who married Margaret Plowden. The Sandfords were related to the Beringtons, and in 1624 Mrs. Gibbons, a daughter of Humphrey Sandford of the Isle was certified to the House of Commons as a Popish Recusant. The father of Thomas Lee, Mary, wife of Edward Plowden, Joyce wife of Robert Morton, of Haughton, and others, was the Thomas Lee, of Langley, who married Jane, daughter of Sir Robert Corbet, of Morton, and direct descendants in the male line of Roger de la Lee, who married Joan, daughter and heir of Edward Burnell of Acton Burnell.

So at their quiet old home the Plowdens kept alive the old Faith of England without change, handing it on as a precious inheritance from father to son, but their lives were by no means so quiet and monotonous as some might imagine, for they frequently went on to the continent and made rounds of visits. Thus in April, 1760, they go up to London with six horses and five servants, and while returning home in October visit Idsworth, Burton in Sussex, Arundel, Cowdray, Stouor, Heythrop, Chillington and Shrewsbury. Life on the continent was not without its dangers since anyone moving in society came into contact with the infidel ideas of the day, and young Edmund Plowden who succeeded his father when eleven years of age, met many of that school, among others Voltaire. He married in the parish Church of Atcham, Anna Maria, daughter of Robert Burton, Esqre., of Longnor, the marriage by a Catholic Priest being performed in secret. Their only issue, Anna Maria, was brought up in the religion of her mother, as was common in mixed marriages of those days, and married Rev. John Eyton, Rector of Wellington, some of whose descendants returned to the old Faith.

This Edmund Plowden lived for many years at Tong Castle, near Shiffnal, and subsequently at Haughton Hall near the same place. His wife died in July, 1830, and was buried in the Church at Shiffnal, but he himself in the Plowden vault in Lydbury Church, being remarkable as having possessed the estate for more than seventy years. His grandfather's sister, Frances, had married Robert Aglionby Slaney, of Hatton, near Shiffnal. This is the only instance in this long line, of the estate not passing from father to son, Edmund being succeeded by the son of his brother.

Thus, as in other places, the Faith remained unchanged at venerable Plowden, and the present Squire kneels at the same Liturgy and holds the same doctrines which his ancestor the Crusader held and from which the learned Sergeant Edmund Plowden refused to swerve, even when the honours of the woollack were offered to induce him to do so. Nor while speaking of the more eminent should we forget the more numerous members of the humbler classes, for whom Plowden formed a centre and refuge.

Mawley Hall, the palatial seat of the family of Blount, is situated in a wild, wooded country, near Cleobury Mortimer. The family, derived from the Blondi, of Italy, sojourned in France, and members of it came over with William the Norman to England, where they intermarried with the highest families. The union of Sir Walter le Blount (obt. 1332) with Joan, sister and coheir of Sir William de Sodington, brought them into the country where Shropshire and Worcestershire join, and where the family has since lived. They remained steadfast to the old Faith and suffered accordingly, but in the later days were able, when a Priest's life was moderately safe, to have their own Chaplain so that the Mission at Mawley is virtually a Chaplaincy. In former days there was a Chapel with a means of concealment and escape for the Priest constructed in the upper part of the mansion, but in 1776 a Chapel was solemnly blessed by Bishop Thomas Talbot, one of the Shrewsbury family. However, for fear of persecution it was commonly spoken of as 'the servant's hall.' On the 5th January, 1813, Prince Louis Buonaparte, son of Lucien Buonaparte, brother of Napoleon I., was baptized at Mawley.

The blood of the Blounts, in the several branches of the family, is largely distributed in the veins of Shropshire men.

Passing by the estate of the Cannings and Howards at Middleton, on the Meadowley Hills, there are two other places in Shropshire which cannot go without notice. One is sometimes called the Mother of the Missions in Shropshire, and takes its origin from the old Priors of Wenlock Abbey and family of Brooke. The Manor of Madeley, with its picturesque Court House, was purchased by Sir Robert Brooke, Chief Justice of Common Pleas, from Henry VIII., on 23rd July, 1544, for the sum of £946 3s. 8d. Sir Robert seems to have purchased it as a place of retirement for the last of its former owners, the Priors of Wenlock. In the Purchase Deed are mentioned Ironworks at Coalbrookdale. These have so developed, with coalmines, that at the present day the old mansion stands naked and gaunt, surrounded with mounds of mineral refuse, and looking down into an inky pool formerly part of the moat. Yet it still has a certain dignity. Here in a Chapel in the north end the Brooke family fostered the ancient Faith. In successive generations they intermarried with the families of Grosvenor of Farcote, Waring, Shirley of Staunton Harold, Brudenel, Nevile and Guildeford; then came the last Basil Brooke of the direct line, who left his sisters Margaret, Catherine and Mary, his coheirs. But the male line was carried on by his uncle Thomas, who, marrying the heiress of the Comberfords, of Comberford, had issue four sons and two daughters, all of whom died without male issue except the eldest son Comberford, whose only son Basil died young, and Madeley was divided between his two sisters, viz., Catherine, wife of John Unett Smitheman, and Rose, wife of John Giffard of the Chillington family. About the year 1760 the Giffards gave some land for a Church and house, and the foundation stone of the present Church was laid on 21st April, 1852, by Dr. Brown, the first Bishop of the restored Hierarchy with jurisdiction over Shropshire. The Church of Madeley is now served from Shiffnal, another of those places where the old Faith was fostered in secret.

The Manor of Shiffnal had passed from the Talbots to the Howards and so became the property of Sir William Howard, who married Mary, sister and coheir of Henry, fifth Baron Stafford. The Lords Stafford were already connected with the neighbourhood by the marriage of Edward, the fourth Baron (grandfather of Mary) with Isabel, daughter of Thomas Forster (now spelt Forester). The visitor to the fine Parish Church of Shiffnal will notice in the chancel a recumbent figure in Mass vestments of Thomas Forster, Prior of Wombridge, Warden of Tong, and Vicar of Idsall, who was buried there in 1526. His brother William, of Tong was the ancestor of Lady Stafford and the Forsters of Tong, who always kept the old Faith, and the eldest brother Richard had the estate at Evelith, and was the father of Anthony Forster, of Cumnor, Co. Berks., whose name has been used by Sir Walter Scott in his novel of Kenilworth. Another branch of the family was seated on the Watling Street, near Wellington, of whom John, having married Joyce the heiress of Upton, had issue with others William the ancestor of Lord Forester already mentioned as benevolently lending his mansion of Dothill Park as an asylum for emigré Priests driven out of France by the revolution, and Edward, whose daughter and heir Isabel married her cousin John Forester, of Sutton Madoc and Ruckley Grange, 1592.

The House of Stafford had been stripped of its wealth and the younger members had little whereon to maintain the dignity of a peerage, but the Act of Charles I. in trying to deprive the family of its title and confer it upon Sir William Howard cannot be justified. Both giver and receiver lost their heads upon the scaffold, Charles through rebellion, Viscount Stafford at the hands of false witnesses. Lord Stafford's eldest son died without issue, and though his second son had male issue it became extinct, and the final representation passed to a daughter Mary Howard, wife of Francis Plowden, of Plowden, whose daughter and heiress Mary Plowden, becoming the wife of Sir George Jerningham, Bart., their son Sir William claimed and obtained the title of Baron Stafford. So Shiffnal has always belonged to Catholics, and Mass was said in secret in a hidden Chapel at the old Manor House until times of greater toleration made it possible for Lord Stafford to build a Chapel in the town in the year 1860. Here is preserved a most interesting relic, a pre-reformation Chalice of ancient design, having engraved underneath the base 'Restore me to Sheafnall in Shropshire.' Lord Herries found it at Everingham in Yorkshire, and restored it to its proper place through the medium of Lord Stafford.

As might naturally be surmised, many memorials of this kind exist, as at Newport, where there are 1, the orphreys of a late 15th or early 16th century chasuble remounted on a more modern foundation; 2, a large chalice of silver gilt having the inscription 'Jesu fili David miserere mei, Thomas Talbott, 1671'; 3, a small gothic chalice of the 17th century, almost a replica of that of Fr. Postgates represented by photography in Dom Bede Camm's 'Forgotten Shrines,' &c. There is also a portrait on panel with a knife plunged into the breast inscribed 'Joannes Ducket, sacerdos, passus Londini Sep. die 7, 1644, aetatis suae 31.' And indeed in most of the old Catholic families of England vestments, &c., are preserved and still used which belonged to them before the 16th century. Such is a slight sketch of the Catholics of Shropshire and indeed of the rest of England, a body of men remarkable for two characteristics, constancy to their Faith which they never left, and fidelity to their King. The historical documents in the Record Office and other repositories bear witness to this. They were reduced by law to a state bordering upon slavery, but in our County the feeling of the gentry was against this persecution and in favour of those who were their relatives and connections.

It remains for the writer to thank those who have assisted him by the information they have kindly sent, among whom must be mentioned the Bishop, Canons Moriarty and Dallow, the Revs. Chichele Giles, H. E. Hazlehurst, D.D., Costedoat, &c., &c., and W. F. Plowden, Esqre., of Plowden, with others of the County gentry. Special thanks, however, are due to Rev. W. Kinsella for his kindness in copying out the several Registers in Shropshire, a work taking much time and labour.
